Sager Awarded a Navy Commendation Medal for Nomination as CNET Shore Sailor of the Year

PENSACOLA, Fla.—Petty Officer 1st Class Charles Sager, a native of Indianapolis, Ind., received the Navy Commendation medal for selection as one of seven Sailors nominated for the Chief of Naval Education and Training (CNET) Shore Sailor of the Year.

The Sailor of the Year program recognizes the best all-around Sailors in paygrades E-6 and below. The nominees demonstrate sustained superior performance in leadership, technical proficiency, motivation, participation in community affairs, and other noteworthy achievements.

Petty Officer 1st Class Charles E. Sager III, a native of Indianapolis, Ind., joined the Navy in May 1983. Sager is an Aviation Electronics Technician (Air Warfare/ Aircrewman) representing the Naval Technical Training Center (NTTC), Corry Station, Pensacola, Fla., and is the Division Leading Petty Officer for the Enlisted Aviation Electronic Warfare Intelligence Course, and a Course Manager/Curriculum Developer for the Aviation Electronic Warfare Intelligence Operator (AVEWOP) course. He has directed operation and maintenance of a 270-hour AVEWOP course and a $3,000,000 dollar Mission Avionics System Trainer (MAST). Sager has been certified to teach all areas of the AVEWOP's course, and has been designated a Master Training Specialist. He volunteers his free time to the local Boy Scout and Cub Scout Troops as a leader and role model.
